

Caribbean MAGIC: Enhancing Collaboration in Research and Education

Enviro-Health Seminar

The Solutions Centre, Cave Hill Campus, University of the West Indies

Wednesday, April 12, 2017

The Enviro-Health Seminar

The seminar intends to:

- Stimulate/strengthen collaboration of communities of interest and practice in the Caribbean and with global partners
- Develop/strengthen collaborative project(s) and/or research ideas based on concerns or gaps and tailored to potential funding

Today's seminar will focus on:

- current environment and health initiatives within the context of Climate Change
- the potential funding and collaboration opportunities in the region

The Enviro-Health Seminar

Greetings from

- Dr Adrian Cashman, Director and Senior Lecturer in Senior Lecturer Water Resources Management at the Centre for Resource Management and Environmental Studies (CERMES) at the University of the West Indies
- presented by Dr Janice Cumberbatch in his absence
- Mr. Marc Thill, Head of Cooperation at the European Union in Barbados

The Enviro-Health Seminar

- Overview of MAGIC, Colaboratorio
- Funding Opportunities
- Global Science Communities

The Enviro-Health Seminar

Presenters:

- Institute for Sustainable Development, UWI - Dr David Smith
- Presentation on Climate Change – Dr. John Charley, Coordinator of Computer Science, Department of Computer Science, Mathematics and Physics, UWI and Climate Studies Group
- Future Foresight - scenarios of what the region might look like in 2050 - Ms. Crystal Drakes, Research Associate, CERMES
- Presentation on Health outcomes – Dr Heather Harewood, Clinical Public Health Specialist, Faculty of Medical Science, UWI, Cave Hill

The Enviro-Health Seminar

- Discussion - collaboration needs, issues, potential collaborative projects, data exchange
- What next?

We hope that participants will seize some of these opportunities in order to support greater regional and global collaboration on research, academics or practical project implementation.

